THE EVOLUTION OF RELIGION: An Anthropological Study.

By L. R. FARNELL, D.Litt., Fellow and Tutor of Exeter College, Oxford; University Lecturer in Classical Archæology, etc., etc.

FROM THE PREFACE.—"Having accepted the stimulating invitation to give in the spring of this year a short series of lectures for the Hibbert Trust on some subject belonging to the department of comparative religion, I felt that it was desirable to avoid those topics that had been appropriated by former lecturers; and the Trustees, as well as the audience, also deserved that what the lecturer put forth should embody the results of some personal and original study. I finally selected for special discussion the ritual of purification, and the influence of ideas associated with it upon law, morality, and religion; secondly, the development of prayer from lower to higher forms."

THE CHILD AND RELIGION.

ELEVEN ESSAYS: The Child and Heredity, by Prof. Henry Jones, M.A., LL.D. The Child and its Environment, by C. F. G. Masterman, M.A. The Child's Capacity for Religion, by Prof. George T. Ladd, D.D., LL.D. The Child and Sin, by Rev. F. R. Tennant, M.A., B.Sc. Child Conversion, by Rev. J. Cynddylan Jones, D.D. The Child's Religious Training in the Church of England, by Rev. Canon H. Hensley Henson, M.A. The Child's Religious Training in the Free Churches, by Rev. Robert F. Horton, M.A., D.D. The Baptists and the Children, by Rev. Geo. H. Hill, M.A., D.D. Religious Training in the New Church, by Rev. J. J. Thornton. Religious Training among the Jews, by Rabbi A. A. Green. The Child and the Bible, by Prof. Jos. Agar Bell, D.D.

Edited by T. STEPHENS, B.A.

"The tendencies of the age, both speculative and practical, have forced us to inquire whether the processes of the religious consciousness as phenomena can be made clearer and more intelligible by a use of the methods of scientific observation and analysis. In these essays the result of the same tendencies is seen in a courageous attempt to bring the light of scientific research to bear on the dark problems of religious education."—Speaker.

Dr. Adolf Harnack's Latest Work.

THE EXPANSION OF CHRISTIANITY IN THE FIRST THREE CENTURIES.

By ADOLF HARNACK, Professor of Church History in the University of Berlin, and Member of the Royal Prussian Academy. Translated and edited by JAMES MOFFATT, B.D., D.D. (St. Andrews).

"The subject of the earliest missions of the Church is obscure, but it is fascinating, and no man in Europe is more competent than Dr. Harnack to treat of it. . . . We cannot fail to profit by the study of his learned and brilliant pages. No book has appeared in late years in Germany—not excluding Dr. Harnack's 'Wesen'—which was more worthy of translation than this."—Guardian.

Towards a Social Policy.

SUGGESTIONS FOR

CONSTRUCTIVE DOMESTIC REFORM.

By Various Writers.

Representing the conclusions of a Committee consisting of Messrs. C. R. BUXTON, H. C. FAIRFAX-CHOLMELEY, J. L. HAMMOND, F. W. HIRST, L. T. HOBHOUSE, J. A. HOBSON, C. F. G. MASTERMAN, J. H. MORGAN, and VAUGHAN NASH.

"It is clear that the Liberal Party is going to have a big—perhaps a colossal majority. What will it do with that majority? That, I fear, is not so clear. We must all welcome, therefore, such a volume as the Speaker Office has produced under the title of 'Towards a Social Policy.' It is full of hard thinking and solid information, and should be a mine for platform speakers in the coming General Election."—DAILY CHRONICLE.

"The book should be in the hand of everyone who loves his country. It is a lucid and comprehensive statement of the causes of the blight that is falling upon the race, and of the remedies to be applied."—DAILY NEWS.

"'Towards a Social Policy' decidedly 'gives us to think.' Its authors are doing the Liberal Party a notable service."—WESTMINSTER GAZETTE.

"They (the readers) will find within its hundred and twenty odd pages much keen diagnosis of existing evils, much outspoken criticism of the slipshod palliatives with which we have hitherto been content to attempt to meet them, and many bold suggestions—some very bold indeed—as to the direction in which the real remedies are to be found. They may not agree. They cannot fail to be interested."—MORNING LEADER.
